Natural Gas
Comfortable. Responsible.

Rusty, the Cowboy grew up on a big ranch and he worked hard to become a great wrangler. Like most good cowpokes Rusty had a large family, and when it was finally his turn to get warsh'd up for school all of his older brothers and sisters had used up all the hot water! Brrrrr!!! Rusty dreaded cold showers and vowed that one day he'd help folks keep hot water runnin' from mornin' 'til night. When Rusty learned that there was a town in the South that was in need of a top-notch water heater wrangler, he knew he'd found his true calling. Rusty set to wranglin' up all the old water heaters that were costin' their owners too much money and too much fuss.

One day while out wranglin', Rusty found himself on Main Street and fell head over heels in love with the neighborhood. He and his family – Sally, Rusty Jr., Prairie, Spud, and ol' Patches the pooch moved into a house with a white picket fence and a natural gas tankless gas water heater. Rusty and his family love being part of the community 'cuz it's just more fun working and playing with friends and neighbors.

Hot showers, comfortable living, and big savings for everyone!

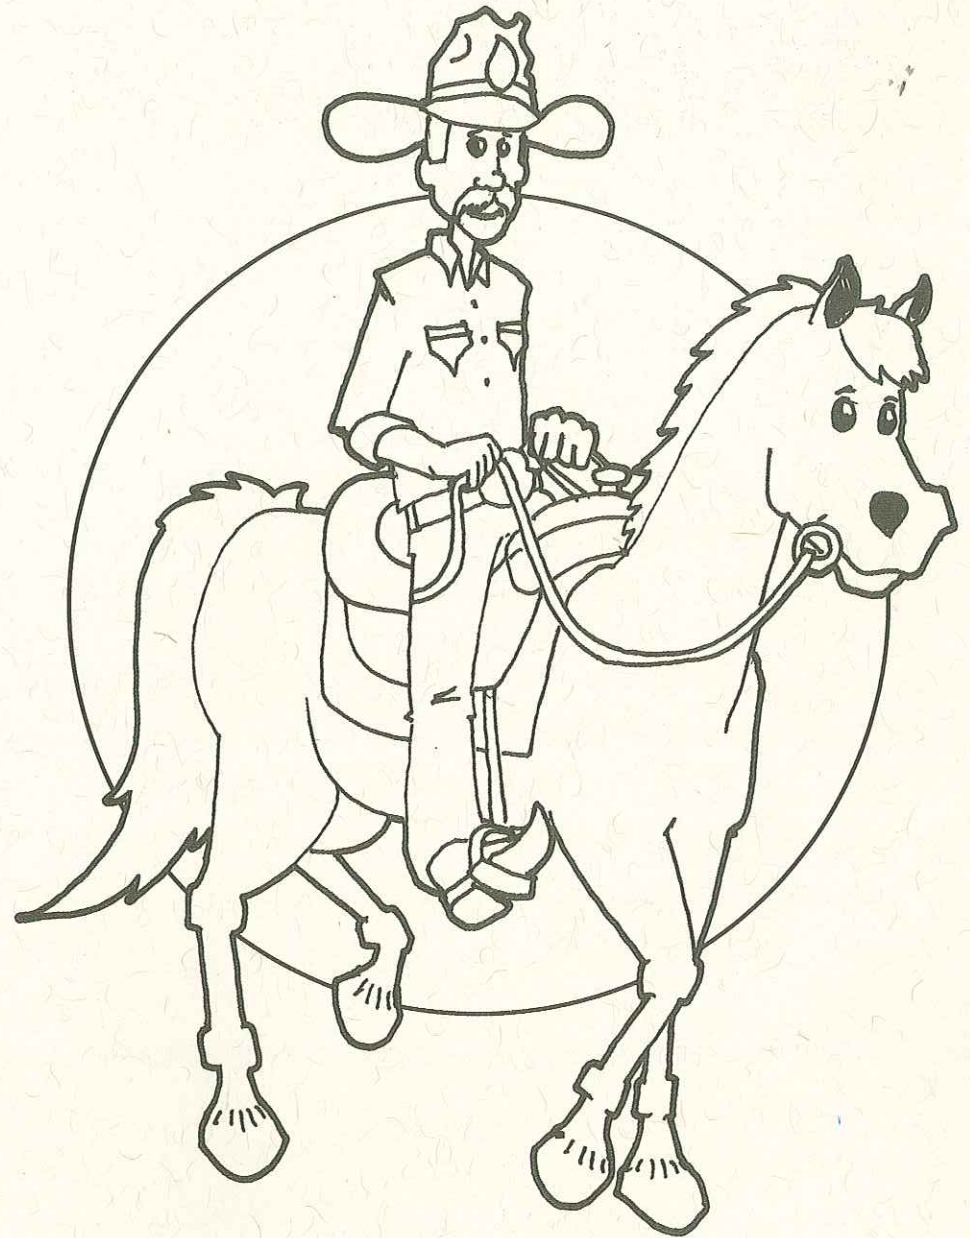

Rusty hates cold showers! Brrrr!!!

TRUE OR FALSE

1. T F Natural gas heats water faster and quicker for showers and baths.
2. T F Natural gas is lighter than air.
3. T F Natural gas can be used in cars.
4. T F You can see natural gas.
5. T F Natural gas is man made, in a factory.
6. T F It's faster to warm up a cup of hot chocolate with a flame rather than a light bulb.

ANSWERS: 1. true. Using natural gas to heat water is faster than using electricity to heat water. 2. true. much like the helium in a balloon, it rises above air. 3. true. In fact, it's being used today in millions of cars around the world. 4. false. Natural gas is shapeless, colorless and odorless in its natural form. 5. false. Natural gas is a mixture of gases that formed from the decayed remains of ancient plants and animals buried deep in the earth. 6. true. Imagine trying to heat water for hot chocolate using a light bulb. You would have to wait a long time and use a lot of energy to heat that mug of cocoa (and get very thirsty waiting!) But a flame heating your cocoa would work much faster and efficiently. The same holds true for heating the water in your shower or tub, or when you're helping to do the dishes after dinner. It takes a lot of electricity to heat the water to the right temperature (what a waste!), but with a natural gas water heater heats up faster and with less energy! Using the right energy source for the right job is smart thinking!

Rusty's goin' to wrangle up some old electric water heaters!

SAFETY★MAZE

Did you know? Natural gas has no smell. A scent similar to rotten eggs, is added to natural gas for your safety, so you'll know if there is ever a gas leak in your home. If you ever smell that rotten egg smell you should tell an adult right away. Then go outside and call the fire department and your natural gas provider.

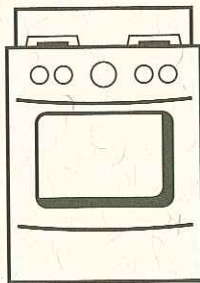

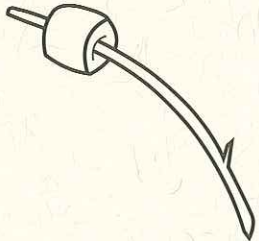

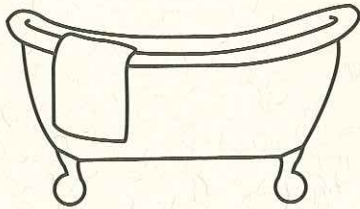

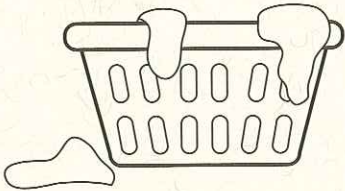

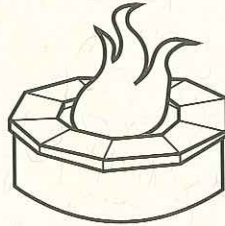

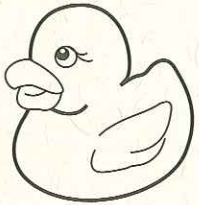

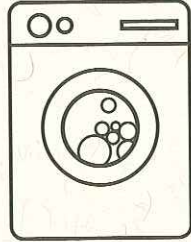

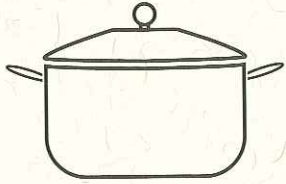

Rusty loved Main Street so much that he packed up the whole family and moved there!
