

Helping You Understand Your Natural Gas Bill

Metro Area Marketers Verses Winder Natural Gas

While you may hear marketers tout their low “per-therm” rates in radio and print ads they fail to mention all the other fees added to their bill that the City of Winder does not charge:

- Customer Service Fees,
- Interstate Capacity Charges
- Atlanta Gas Light Base Charges

All of these charges outside of their “per-therm” rate can add as much as $20-$50 a month to their bills!

As you’ll see from the graphs below, in direct comparison, the majority of the charges from the City of Winder come directly from your usage of natural gas, not additional fees.

Weather!

Let’s look at just how cold January 2018 was...

According to current weather data January 2018 was 23% colder than the average December and January in Georgia...that’s cold! The colder than normal January weather resulted in more days of heating and longer periods of time using natural gas in the home.

Winder Natural Gas continues to be very competitive with metro Atlanta marketer rates, and almost always is lower than marketer rates, without the added fees. We are committed to serving those in our community!